Erick Rainey is founder and director of RainWorks Training and Development, a consultancy business specializing in communication, presentation skills and NLP, Neuro Linguistic Programming (the art and science of excellence). Erick started out as a professional coach and quickly established himself as a leading personal and professional strategic coach.

Rainey specializes in catalysing the communication and presentation skills of CEO's, management and staff. He encourages, educates and informs individuals on embracing self-leadership and inner resourcefulness creating a climate of unlimited self belief and enhanced productivity. He is also an international award winning keynote speaker. When training and working with businesses Rainey delivers processes that involve goal setting, communication, presentation skills, sales, rapport, sensory acuity, principles of success, the five levels of listening to name but a few.

Erick became International Speech Champion of the UK and Ireland for two years in succession in 2004 and 2005. He went onto achieve third place in the final of the World Championships of Public Speaking 2005 and again in 2009, a global competition involving 25,000 speakers.

He has worked with Fortune 500 and FTSE 250 companies and delivered his keynote speech 'Unconsciously Awesome' to conferences and meetings across the business spectrum. Previously, he had a highly successful career in the theater and has toured the world with The Royal Opera and at various times has shared the stage with the Three Tenors; Pavarotti, Carerras and Domingo. He has also worked creatively with Sir Anthony Dowell, Ken Russell and Peter Gabriel of Genesis.

Rainey walks the talk and lists amongst his other accomplishments: fire walking across red hot coals, stilt walking, living in a tree house and Vision Quest, a native American rite of passage, where he had his tongue taken away and was then escorted up a mountain, then 'planted' and left alone for five days and four nights with no food, water or shelter, an amazing achievement by any standard.

Erick Rainey is a fully qualified Master Practitioner and Trainer of Neuro Linguistic Programming, certified by the Association of Integrative Psychology and the American Board of Neuro-Linguistic Programming. He is also a fully certified Trainer of Hypnosis and Time Empowerment Techniques. He gained his coaching qualification from The Coaching Academy in the UK where he graduated with distinction. He earned his BA Honours Degree in Fine Art from Exeter College of Art & Design.

He delivers a variety of trainings that cover topics such as Leadership, advanced communication, presentation skills, Leadership, quantum goal setting and sales (see Programs Offered for more details)

Erick's Mission: To improve and enhance the quality of communication, both internal and external, so that excellence is the norm not the exception.
